

Capricorn Mecurr

Capricorn Maxuss

Maintain your horse's health, fitness and condition in all weather conditions.

The energy created by the infrared lights is a radiant heat which penetrates the skin of your horse. This radiant heat stimulates blood circulation.

By using the Capricorn Equine Solarium your horse will recover quicker after a heavy workout.

The infrared rays open blood vessels and provides the horse's muscles with increased blood flow reducing the build up of lactose toxic waste and reducing the risk of muscle injuries.

The infrared heat provided will ensure that blood sugars will be quickly absorbed by the horse's muscles.

The ergonomically designed solarium body is manufactured of a two-tone, heat resistant and impact proof PVC.

The shape of the solarium follows the horse's body line and provides perfect, even distribution of the energy created by the infrared lights.

The infrared light in combination with the airblowers which will automatically start and circulate warm air.

Solarium model Maxuss is manufactured in 3 segments which can be moulded and shaped independently to maximize heat distribution.
